

TEST YOUR KNOWLEDGE
TYPICAL EXAM QUESTIONS FOR COMMERCIAL LICENCE – HUMAN PERFORMANCE

1. The central nervous system consists of
 - a) the brain and reflex systems
 - b) the spinal chord and reflex systems
 - c) the brain and the spinal chord

2. For learning to occur, the subject must be
 - a) wide awake
 - b) clever
 - c) wide awake and clever

3. The automatic nervous system consists of nerves
 - a) leading from the brain and cords to the smooth muscles
 - b) leading from the cord to the rough muscles
 - c) leading from the brain and cord to the fingertips and toes

4. Personality determines
 - a) behaviour and actions
 - b) behaviour and thought
 - c) thoughts and actions

5. Pilots typically exhibit
 - a) type A behaviour characteristics
 - b) type B behaviour characteristics
 - c) type C behaviour characteristics

6. The term 'cockpit gradient' refers to
 - a) the difference in cockpit seat height
 - b) the difference in height between captain and copilot
 - c) the difference in authority between captain and copilot

7. Leaders tend to be
 - a) perfectionist, honest, liberal thinkers
 - b) reliable, good looking, conservative thinkers
 - c) dependable, self confident, socially popular

8. In relaxed situations, a leader who is concerned with the personal feelings of the group
 - a) will have a less productive/unsuccessful group

- b) will have a more productive/successful group
 - c) will have an average performance group
9. Pilots wear uniforms
- a) so that they can be easily recognised
 - b) so that they can feel important
 - c) so that they can be perceived to be important
10. An increasingly popular training method for pilots is
- a) profitability training
 - b) popularity training
 - c) sensitivity training
11. Sensitivity training for pilots is carried out in
- a) large structured groups
 - b) small structured groups
 - c) small unstructured groups
12. Fugue is
- a) dutch roll tendency in aircraft
 - b) permanent amnesia accompanied by flight
 - c) temporary amnesia accompanied by flight

ANSWERS

1.C	2.A	3.A	4.B	5.A	6.C
7.C	8.B	9.C	10.C	11.C	12.C